REQUIRED DELIVERY DATE

Class sets the voltage rating — not thickness.

If the class is not fixed yet, send the maximum service voltage; the class follows from it and we confirm it in writing.

WHAT COMES BACK WITH THE QUOTE

- Unit price, MOQ and lead time for the quantity you send.
- Trade term and packing, so the landed cost can be worked out.
- The document list for that product line, in writing.

SHIPPED WITH THE GOODS

- Batch dielectric test report, matched to the batch on the packing list.
- Third-party test (SGS / TUV) when agreed at quotation — it cannot be added after production.
- OEM size, colour, printing and packaging, confirmed on the drawing before the run.

WHERE TO SEND IT

- Email the filled sheet to info@electricalsafetytools.com.
- Or use the form on the contact page, with a drawing or a photo of the nameplate if one is to hand.

FOUR THINGS THAT MOVE THE PRICE OR THE DATE

QUANTITY
MOQ is set per product: 1 set, 1 piece, 2–10 pieces or 10 pairs. Mixed-SKU trial orders and LCL shipments are accepted.

SIZE OR COLOUR
Custom size, colour or printing is a production change — it moves the lead time, not only the price.

THIRD-PARTY TEST
SGS or TUV has to be agreed at quotation. Once production is finished it cannot be added.

DESTINATION AND TERM
FOB, CIF or DDP, loading from Xingang. The term decides who pays freight and who clears duty.

LEAD TIME 10–31 days from order confirmation, depending on the quantity band and how much of the order is customised.
